

Actions of a good anti-racist ally

To help everybody in the world feel welcome and safe, we all need to be a good anti-racist ally—someone who stands up against racism and discrimination.

The children at Barmulloch Primary School in Glasgow wanted to help children and adults understand what it means to be an anti-racist ally. They helped design this poster to demonstrate what actions a good ally for anti-racist change can do.

Find out more about the art
created by the children

